Dr. Rudy Kachmann to Have Burger Named in His Honor

Noted Neurosurgeon to Speak at White's Wabash Campus on October 11 at 6:30 p.m.

October 6, 2009, Wabash, Indiana: Dr. Rudy Kachmann, a Fort Wayne neurosurgeon and philanthropist, will visit White's Wabash campus to speak with youth in White's Residential program. This will take place on October 11, 2009 at 6:30 p.m. in White's Chapel, located at 5233 S 50 E. in Wabash.

Later in the evening, Dr. Kachmann will have a burger named in his honor: a vegetarian burger available on the menu at Rudy's Place, White's on-campus restaurant. As of October 11, the veggie-burger will be known as the Rudyburger.

"Dr. and Mrs. Kachmann have been friends and supporters of White's, and to the hurting children and youth in our care," said Dee Gibson, White's Chief Executive Officer. "His commitment to healthy living and a vegetarian diet sparked the idea of naming a menu item in our restaurant after him."

Members of the media are welcome to attend the event. For more information, please call Bill Gray, Marketing Director, at 260-563-1158, extension 1351, or via cell at 260-223-4464.

ABOUT WHITE'S:

White's Residential & Family Services, located in Wabash, Indiana and at eight other offices around the state, serves more than 3,400 at-risk children and families annually—those who without assistance and guidance would fall through the cracks of society. The largest non-profit provider of such services in the state of Indiana, White's is a Christ-centered organization committed to enriching the lives of children and families through emotional healing, personal development and spiritual growth. Through residential, foster care, emergency shelter care, home-based, transitional living, and adoption services, White's seeks to create a change for good in the lives of children and families who need it most.
